ABBYY provides considerable Sales Support to help partners generate sales more quickly, leverage existing relationships and expand business. The dedicated Sales Managers are the first line of contact and can provide partners with information related to ABBYY and ABBYY products. They are also the right contact with regard to Deal Management as well as to competitive pricing.

Training

Our partners receive technical certification training as well as product-specific trainings directly from ABBYY. This ensures that they receive all information they need for successful evaluation, deployment and implementation of data capture projects.

Technical Certification Training

The mandatory technical training is comprised of a hands-on product training with a detailed functional overview of ABBYY's Data and Document Capture product line. A training fee not only ensures a first class level quality of both the information and the accompanying support delivered by ABBYY, but also shows the partner's commitment to ABBYY products. The focus of the training is to provide the partners with the knowledge they need to be able to independently set up data capture projects.

Product Update Training

With each product release ABBYY offers extensive information on new features and settings. This gives partners a deep insight into product setup, functionality and positioning in the markets. ABBYY provides members of the Partner Programme with valuable guidance that helps with the evaluation of prospective projects.
